

Community Immunity?

How vaccines help you and others stay healthy

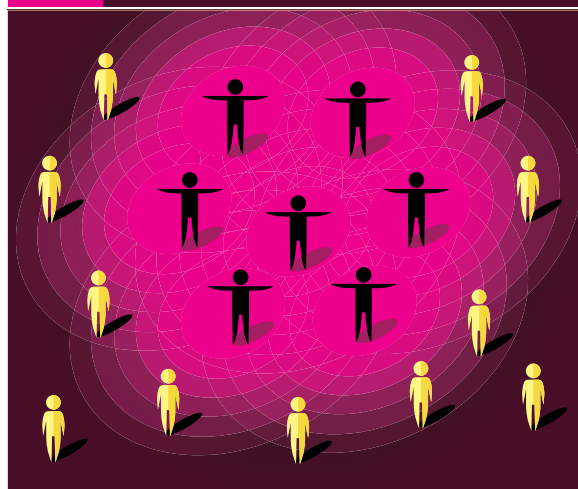

1

Infected people  can pass on disease to nonimmune people .

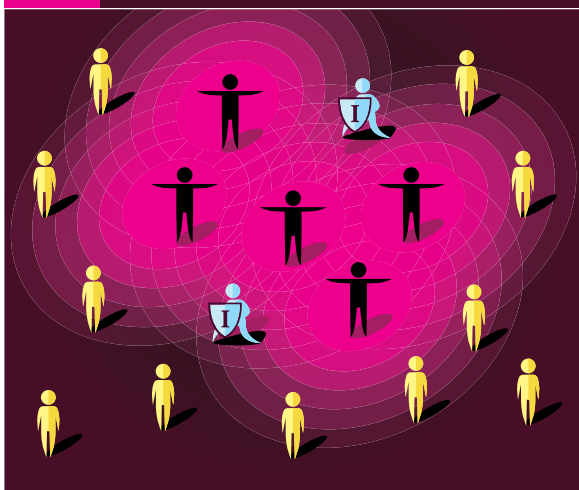

2

People exposed to the infection may become infected. They can further spread the disease.

3

Immunized people  can be spared from infection.

4

When most of a population is immunized, even the nonimmune can be protected.

